Teacher Notes

First, I would like to say that this game has been so much fun and rewarding. My students always look forward to playing it. It has filled time on those days right before/after a test, before a holiday, at the end of school year, etc. Every time you play it, it comes out different. No one knows who is going to win. There are so many variables that winning is all about luck.

There have been days that this worksheet has taken the entire class period and days that it went so fast that I needed something else to keep my student's attention.

Either print two sided or print a couple of one sided sheets, then take up the parish names to be used in different classes. I have done both. Once the students are ready to play, begin by reading off the names on the game list in a mixed order to keep the interest up.

Every game is different, for you and the students. I have used extra points for the next test, next homework, next grade, whatever you feel is right for you and your students.

Initials

Parish Tic-Tac-Teaux

Directions: First, for each game below select 9 of 16 names from the chart for that game number. Write only in BLACK ink. When all four games are complete have your teacher initial the box in the upper right corner to signify that you are ready to play. Everyone will get at least ONE BONUS POINT for playing. Additional points will be awarded for each game won. As your teacher calls out a parish name, if you have it, mark it with an X, the next name will be marked with an O, The game continues until the game is won. Draw a line indicating the win. From there, move on to next game.
